EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

On the 23rd of March 2024, a seminar was held at the ALSUD - Professional School in Mértola to give an overview of LIFE Águeda. This school offers a technical course in hunting and fishing management. The course includes modules on fish species and fisheries legislation, addressing issues related to the biology of fish species, characterize population dynamics, conservation and management and fisheries legislation. The seminar was presented in a broad context, LIFE Águeda, with a focus on diadromous fish populations in Portugal. covered fish biology, habitat and resource management, from riverine environments to open waters. The presentation was given to a student audience. The seminar highlighted the ecological importance of fish communities and promoted the transfer of multidisciplinary knowledge between freshwater and marine environments.

DISSEMINATION PROGRAM

The seminar presented the objectives of the project, the study area and the methods and preliminary results used to study the migratory behaviour and dispersal patterns of migratory species in the Vouga river basin.

DISSEMINATION OUTPUTS

The seminar made it possible to promote the main management solutions adopted by LIFE Águeda to a student audience and to transfer multidisciplinary knowledge between freshwater and marine environments.
